NextGen Healthcare First to Achieve EHNAC Practice Management System Accreditation

PMSAP accreditation demonstrates Company's adherence to higher standard of quality, privacy and security, and creates trustworthy framework with providers

HORSHAM, Pa.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- NextGen Healthcare Information Systems, LLC., a wholly owned subsidiary of Quality Systems, Inc. (NASDAQ: QSII) and a leading provider of healthcare information systems and connectivity solutions, today announced it is amongst the first Healthcare Information Technology (HIT) vendors to achieve full accreditation with the Practice Management System Accreditation Program (PMSAP) from the Electronic Healthcare Network Accreditation Commission (EHNAC).

EHNAC's PMSAP accreditation serves as a third-party review and provides an additional level of assurance to the provider community during the evaluation process of PMS system vendors. Additionally, the program was jointly developed with the Workgroup for Electronic Data Interchange (WEDI) and provides a review of the PMS vendor readiness to support and implement ICD-10 in 2015.

Through the consultative review process, EHNAC evaluated NextGen Healthcare in areas of privacy, security, mandated standards and operating rules, and key operational functions. Additionally, EHNAC assessed the organization's health information and oversight for meeting privacy and security, HIPAA and ACA requirements, as well as focused on technical performance, business processes and resource management.

"Building trust in the healthcare community is of utmost importance in today's market, and there's certainly no exception amongst practice management system vendors," said Lee Barrett, executive director of EHNAC. "PMS leaders like NextGen Healthcare demonstrate the type of high caliber of quality, protection and assurances that the provider community is calling for through its EHNAC PMS accreditation. We congratulate them on earning this significant achievement."

NextGen® Practice Management (PM) is an integrated, robust set of IT tools that help practices improve operational results and maintain compliance. NextGen PM helps increase productivity, capture more revenue, and drive informed decisions. It helps practices transition to accountable care, pay-for-performance models. It is a critical element of the NextGen suite and operates as an integrated solution with NextGen® Ambulatory EHR, Patient Portal, Optical Management, Document Management, and other elements of the NextGen Healthcare suite of solutions.

"Organizations that receive EHNAC accreditations improve business processes, innovation, quality of service, and regulatory compliance," said Michael Lovett, executive vice president and general manager for NextGen Healthcare. "As one of only two vendors having achieved EHNAC PMS accreditation, we view this accreditation as an essential benchmark in our commitment to providing our clients with higher standards of quality. It underscores our abilities in establishing a trustworthy framework with providers and demonstrates that client and patient privacy is a top priority."

About EHNAC

The Electronic Healthcare Network Accreditation Commission (EHNAC) is a voluntary, self-governing standards development organization (SDO) established to develop standard criteria and accredit organizations that electronically exchange healthcare data. These entities include accountable care organizations, electronic health networks, EPCS vendors, eprescribing solution providers, financial services firms, health information exchanges, health information service providers, management service organizations, medical billers, outsourced service providers, payers, practice management system vendors and third-party administrators. EHNAC was founded in 1993 and is a tax-exempt 501(c)(6) nonprofit organization. Guided by peer evaluation, the EHNAC accreditation process promotes quality service, innovation, cooperation and open competition in healthcare.
