Renowned Clinic in Washington State Leverages NextGen Enterprise to Provide Affordable Primary Healthcare Services to Residents Who Face Barriers to Care

ATLANTA--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Oct. 11, 2021-- NextGen Healthcare, Inc. (Nasdaq: NXGN), a leading provider of ambulatory-focused technology solutions, today announced that Community Health Center of Snohomish County (CHC of Snohomish County), a federally qualified health center (FQHC) in Washington state, has adopted its full solution suite including NextGen® Enterprise EHR and NextGen® Enterprise PM, as well as NextGen® Population Health and NextGen® Patient Experience Platform. With seven medical, two walk-in, and five dental clinics in the Puget Sound region and nearly 70,000 patients served annually, CHC of Snohomish County is leveraging the complete NextGen Healthcare platform to expand its community care model while also improving provider productivity and simplifying its billing process.

CHC of Snohomish County chose NextGen Healthcare because of its easier documentation and workflow, seamless data interoperability and exchange, and ability to manage complex FQHC requirements. NextGen Healthcare's platform enables CHC of Snohomish County to expand care delivery into more clinic locations and increase patient access.

"NextGen Healthcare's integrated platform with patient-centric and provider-friendly tools helps our team make better decisions, increases the bottom line, and provides an outstanding patient experience," said Ben Luety, CPA, MBA, chief financial officer for Community Health Center of Snohomish County. "NextGen Enterprise is a superior platform that allows us to expand services like behavioral health and supports our future growth."

"We are pleased to partner with CHC of Snohomish County to enhance the clinic's operations and enable greater access to care for patients throughout their communities," said Srinivas (Sri) Velamoor, chief growth and strategy officer for NextGen Healthcare. "This is a terrific example of how our integrated platform with seamless interoperability and end-to-end workflow features is benefitting patients and providers alike."
